Letter of Support

6th November 2024

The Centre for Sustainable Communities is pleased to support the Bega Valley Data Collective's "Living Well in the Bega Valley" project. The Centre for Sustainable Communities brings 24 years' experience of working in partnership with communities in Australia and the Asia-Pacific to achieve more sustainable futures. The centres work aligns with the Bega Valley Data Collective's mission to empower the Bega Valley "community to thrive together through a wellbeing framework based on collaboration, data and action".

The Centre for Sustainable Communities will support the Bega Valley data Collective by acting as a "critical friend" throughout the projects initial stages and sharing knowledge.
